On 23 August 1926, Gertrude Ederle, a famous American swimmer, became the first woman to swim the English Channel.

In 1924, Ederle won a gold medal in the Olympic Games when she was only 17 years old. She swam across the English Channel two years later.

She started in France at 7.05 on the morning of 6 August. The swim took 14 hours and 30 minutes. The weather was bad, with wind and rain. The first person to meet her on the English coast was an officer who asked for her passport!

When she got home, she became the star in a movie called Swim Girl, Swim and she also met the President of the United States.

Unfortunately, in 1933, she fell down the steps of her apartment building, and because of the accident, she couldn't swim in competitions again. She never married and died on 30 November 2003 at the age of 98.

The history of tea

British people drink 165 million cups of tea every day. But where did their favourite drink come from?

- F Legend says, the history of tea started in 2737 BC. Chinese emperor Shen Nung was sitting under a tree. His servant was boiling some water when a leaf fell into the water. Shen Nung decided to try the new drink. He liked it, and so, tea was born!
- 2 ____Is the story true? No one really knows. But we know that tea became a popular drink in China in the 7th century and it became China's national drink. A writer named Lu Yu wrote an important book about tea in the 8th century which made tea drinking even more popular.

		3	Tea didn't arrive in Europe until the 17th century. At this time, Holland was an important sea power. The Dutch were the first to bring tea to Europe from the island of Java in 1606. Tea became fashionable in Holland, but it was expensive, so only rich people had enough money to buy it.
		4	Tea drinking didn't become popular in Britain until much later. A coffee house in the City of London was the first to serve tea in 1658. A few years later, the East India Company started importing tea from China, and tea became Britain's favourite drink – and this is still true today, hundreds of years later!
		5	But tea is popular all over the world – people drink mint tea in North Africa, green tea in China and Japan, rooibos tea in South Africa and maté in South America. Some people drink tea with sugar, others drink it with sugar, honey, lemon or milk, and some people don't add anything at all to their cup of tea.
			are are many different kinds of tea, and many ways to enjoy it, but people all around world agree that tea is amazing.

Hi Pat

Thanks for lunch yesterday. I really enjoyed the ice cream and strawberries – they were delicious! It was nice to see your mum and dad again. Say 'hi' to them from me.

I didn't do much at all today. Watched some television and listened to music. There was an excellent programme on TV about grizzly bears in Canada! Then I went out to the park for a walk this afternoon.

How was your weekend? Did you do anything special?

Be great to see you again soon. How about meeting up tomorrow?

Love

Life in the largest city on earth

According to some experts, Rome became the first city in the world with a population over 1 million, around the year 100 AD. So, what was life like in the largest city on earth?

Poor people lived in blocks of flats called insulae, sometimes more than three stories high. These flats had no heating, and no running water, so they were not very comfortable. Each flat only had one room. The typical home or domus for wealthier people was the town house. These houses usually had a courtyard or atrium in the middle, as well as bedrooms, a living room, a dining room, and a kitchen. The wealthiest people even had baths or libraries in their houses. People usually painted their houses white at the top, and red at the bottom.

Romans usually ate three times a day. They had a very small breakfast, sometimes only a slice of bread with milk or wine. They had a small lunch. The most important meal of the day was dinner. Many poor people only had bread with some vegetables. Rich people often had dinner parties, with three-course meals. They had meat, fish, vegetables, fruit and sweet desserts. They made their desserts with honey because there was no sugar in those days. They drank wine with water. But everybody in Rome, both rich and poor, used their hands to eat.

Streets in Rome were always busy, with a lot of people walking to work to do business in the forum, which was the main square of a town or city. People also went shopping, visiting the different shops along the streets. There were also colourful markets, temples, and public baths in the city. Rome had amazing architecture, which people still copy today!

In their free time, Romans went to see chariot races and gladiator fights at the amphitheatre. The most famous amphitheatres in the city were the Circus Maximus and the Colosseum. People also often visited the theatre. Men played all the roles on stage – even the parts of women. The theatre was free for all Roman citizens!

Public baths were also popular – they were like fitness centres or gyms today. Men, women and children all visited the baths. Many baths had restaurants, shops, libraries or museums inside. People could spend a whole day in a bath.

2000 years ago Rome was at the centre of the Roman Empire, and its people enjoyed city life in a similar way to ourselves. Of course there is still a lot we can see of the ancient city today – since Rome is now the busy and beautiful capital city of Italy!

Hi Madison How are you? We are planning our holiday for	this walking in the Alps or even the Himalayas but Paul says he wants to go on a more relaxing holiday!

Last year we went to Bali. It was amazing! The sea was beautiful – clear and blue, and you could go scuba diving from the beach. The food was delicious too – lots of fresh seafood and fruit.

Do you have any holiday plans? Send me an email sometime. It would be great to hear from you.

Love
